

Empowering students in the classroom

Participate in finding out what works

G-EPIC project

Gender Empowerment through Politics in the Classroom (G-EPIC) is an international UKRI/EU funded research project in the UK and 5 partner countries to empower students, especially underprivileged girls to gain confidence in their voices

Join us on 21 October 2024

Join researchers and Year 9 teachers in a co-construction workshop to refine the pilot intervention developed over the past year. The workshop will take place on our beautiful University of Roehampton campus. Food will be provided and travel costs reimbursed.

Benefits of participating

- Gain national and international CPD Certificates from partner universities
- Refine and implement new teaching methods and interventions
- Collaborate and network with national and international teachers, researchers, and advisory boards
